Wow, its Summer Vacation time!

Dear Parents,

This is a time for all of us to spend lots and lots of time with our little one and keep our child updated on whatever she/he has learnt in the school so far. Summer vacation is ideal for parental involvement to help her/him learn in a fun filled way. We adults need to provide children with activities, games, experiences and materials that cater to the interests and abilities. These in turn help in developing readiness skills in children. As the children are small we are enclosing few activities which you can enjoy with them in their regular routine so that she/he comes back more alert & aware on the concepts learnt earlier.

And yes! Cuddle & talk to her/him a lot and strengthen your bond! This is also the time for you to continue to develop your child's language, cognitive, motor and social skills as we do it at the school.
